Tomorrow, Friday, Is REMNANT DAY.

BARGAIN DAY. "Bargain" is generally understood to mean more than ordinary value, and nowhere is this better exemplified than here, especially on Friday, when extraordinary efforts are put forward by every manager in the house to rid his or her particular department of all remnants—odds and ends, short lengths, broken sizes and assortments, &c.—thus insuring to shoppers the worth of their money many times over.

Bargain opportunities for tomorrow abound—and the goods are just such things as are needed now for personal use or the home.

PRESENTED LABOR'S CAUSE.

President Roosevelt received a large body of the representatives of organized labor yesterday afternoon at the White House, and talked to them about their urgent request for the enactment of labor measures now pending before Congress.

Samuel Gompers, president, and Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, headed the delegation, which consisted of about a hundred members of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor.

Secretary Morrison read to the President a memorial of the executive council of the American Federation that dwelt particularly on the eight-hour law and its enforcement on government work, including the Panama canal, and the immigration laws, especially the Chinese exclusion laws.

President Gompers and James Duncan, of Quincy, Mass., first vice-president of the federation and president of the Granite Cutters' Union, followed with brief addresses on the lines of the memorial.

President Roosevelt, after listening to the statements, replied in an extended address.

On the subjects of general immigration and the exclusion of Chinese labor the President indicated that he was in practical accord with them, but on some other matters he differed from them radically.

President Roosevelt in his speech said: "If your body objects to the passage of the proposed anti-injunction bill, I have no question that you can stop it, for there is not a capitalist concerned who simply as capitalist is not against it, though I believe that a goodly number both of capitalists and wageworkers who are concerned primarily as citizens favor it. It goes as far as I personally think it should go in limiting the right of injunction. I do not believe it has any chance of passing because there has been great criticism in both houses of Congress against the attitude of the administration in going as far as we have gone.

"As for the right of injunction, it is absolutely necessary to have this power lodged in the courts, though, of course, any abuse of the power is strongly to be reprobated. During the four and a half years that I have been President I do not remember an instance where the government has invoked the right of injunction against a combination of laborers. We have invoked it certainly a score of times against combinations of capital."

Mr. Roosevelt presented reasons why he approved the suspension of the eight-hour law on the Isthmus of Panama, and told the labor leaders if they would present the facts to support alleged violations of the eight-hour law in the United States he would see that the law is enforced and the offenders punished.

He declared there are fewer Chinese in the country than there were 30 years ago and that the new regulations would still exclude the coolie class.

The President said he favored strict laws to keep out unworthy immigrants, but he wants the worthy admitted. He defended his action in prohibiting government employees from petitioning Congress for increased pay or privileges.

It was agreed that on points of difference the executive council of the federation should appoint a committee of three which should draft the views of the organization and submit them to the President at a later date. It is likely that President Gompers will be the chairman of that committee.

Earlier in the day the delegation called on Speaker Cannon and Senator Frye, of Maine, president pro tempore of the Senate, and laid before them the same memorial which they presented to the president.

Speaker Cannon received the delegation in the lobby of the House of Representatives. He resented the charge of unfairness against the House committee on labor.

"It is impossible for a committee not to have many men of many ideas in its makeup," said the Speaker. "In your annual meetings you doubtless find a great variety of opinion. If you don't have a lot of damns I miss my guess. No two men have the same ideas."

Mr. Gompers praised Representative Gardiner, of New Jersey, chairman of the House committee on labor, but said that the other members of the committee, especially the majority members, have not in the opinion of labor interests shown ordinary intelligence in their treatment of matters affecting labor. "The general policy of Congress has been to ignore the requests of labor," President Gompers concluded.

Speaker Cannon replied that he did not think such a criticism just. "You are not the whole shooting match, but a good share of it," said Speaker Cannon. Legislation, policy and administration, he urged, can only progress as fast as they gain majority support.

When the memorial was presented to Senator Frye he made no comment beyond a mere statement that he would lay the memorial before the Senate.

After Chattanooga Lynchers.

A session of the United States Supreme Court was held yesterday at the home of Chief Justice Fuller, as was stated in the Gazette of that day. It is understood that more definite steps were taken to have the parties who participated in the lynching of Edward Johnson, a negro, at Chattanooga, Tenn., after he had been granted a stay of execution by the Supreme Court, arrested on contempt charges. The Department of Justice, at the request of the Supreme Court, it is learned on good authority, has instructed the district attorney at Knoxville to arrest the Chattanooga sheriff, from whose custody the negro was taken by the mob. This arrest will give the situation, which is a serious one, some form, and will establish a precedent for future action by the court.

An opinion has been given by acting Attorney General Hoyt and his assistants to the effect that the Supreme Court has absolute authority to prosecute the Chattanooga authorities and the members of the mob for contempt. The court has authority to sentence the offenders, should they be brought before it, to both fine and imprisonment.

President Roosevelt yesterday took a hand in the investigation and directed the officials of the Department of Justice to aid the Supreme Court officers in every way to bring the members of the mob to justice. He said the lynching was an affront to the highest tribunal of the land, and could not go by without proper action being taken. Secret service men are already in Chattanooga, and more are on their way to secure evidence sufficient to cause the conviction of members of the mob on charges the Department of Justice may bring.

Acting Attorney General Hoyt says the situation is grave, and demands instant and drastic action. He says every effort will be made to punish the guilty ones.

Johnson's case was taken before the Supreme Court by Judge E. M. Hewlett, one of the justices of the District of Columbia, until January 1, who was retained to assist N. W. Pardon, the negro attorney of Chattanooga. The lynching occurred early Tuesday morning.

Strike of Miners in France

A thousand more troops, including a large force of cavalry, are being assembled at Lens, France, owing to the menacing spread of the miners' strike. The strikers are divided into two camps, the Moderates, and the Extremists who threaten to attack each other. The Moderates' claims comprise an increase in the daily wage of adult miners from the present figure of $1.20 with 30 per cent. bonus on results, making altogether an average of $1.25, to a unified wage of $1.50 without a bonus, and also forty cents daily pension after twenty-five years' work or the attainment of the age of fifty. The advanced section, on the other hand, demands $1.60 for the eight-hour day, and a suppression of bonuses, the right to cease work when the men's delegates consider conditions to be dangerous, and a pension scheme similar to that proposed by the Moderates. The rapid extension of the strike is causing great anxiety to the authorities. It is estimated that nearly 80,000 men have ceased work.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, MAR. 22, 1906.

COMPLETE agreement on the crucial points has not yet been reached at Algeciras, but the delay is not at all ominous, being due, as hitherto explained, to the necessity of the delegates referring every new detail of the controversy to their home governments. It may be some days before final settlement is effected, but that in the end there will be a satisfactory settlement seems now to be assured. It is stated that the French government has informed the German government that it accepts the principle of a neutral inspectorship for the Franco-Spanish police force in Morocco. That accords with the last instructions which M. Rouvier, just before the dissolution of his ministry, sent to M. Revoil at Algeciras. The French delegates were directed "to accept the establishment of a system of inspection; to acquiesce in rendering this inspection as efficacious as possible; but not to admit that this inspection be transformed into collaboration, and categorically to refuse to allow the inspector to have the direct command of a port." In brief, France assents to the establishment of an inspector, but insists that he shall be an inspector and not a commander. That was the policy of M. Rouvier, and that is the policy of M. Bourgeois. As for the bank, M. Revoil was instructed to admit a reduction of the original French demands so far as to accept only one share for France, but to insist upon the allotment of three shares to those French establishments which are already Morocco's creditors to the extent of many millions and which therefore claim a right of control and preference. It is understood that Germany accedes to this demand. Thus there is practical agreement on the fundamental principles, and all that remains, says the New York Tribune, is to arrange the details. This may be a tedious job, but it can scarcely involve any controversies dangerous to the peace of Europe or to the ultimate success of the conference.

ANOTHER MAYOR has thrown up the sponge. Mayor Thomas Lawrence Reilly, of Meriden, Conn., after trying his best for three months to administer the office of Chief Executive of that city, to which he was elected on the democratic ticket, has acknowledged that he has had enough of the job. Mayor Reilly before election was a newspaper man. He also ran several professional baseball teams. He says "the occupation of mayoring had them all beaten to a frazzle." He will seek rest and seclusion in a sequestered spot in the heart of the sunny South. During the past three-score years men of various callings in life have filled the position of Mayor of Alexandria. In all these years storekeepers, commission merchants, lawyers, architects, livery stable keepers, dry-goods merchants, doctors, tailors, shoemakers, shoe dealers, tanners, printers and editors have had representatives in the Mayor's office, but St. Crispin seems to have been more especially honored, as several of his disciples, paying no attention to the admonition, "ne sutor ultra crepidam," have taken the ribbons in hand and fulfilled their duty to the community not without much labor. But two from newspaper offices, we believe, have allowed themselves to be saddled with the responsibilities of the position, neither of whom, however, abdicated, as did the Mayor of Meriden, although they but doubled their responsibilities to the city when they became its executive. As newspaper men they are ever subject to the whims and caprices of a clientele often exacting and unreasonable, while in presiding over a city they meet equally as many more persons with sore places whom it is difficult to placate. Hence sympathy is extended to the ex-Mayor of Meriden.

PROF. WILLIAM MACDONALD, of Brown University, declares that the events of the last year indicate that the United States is fast drifting toward socialism. The professor is a little late in reaching his conclusions, but they are right all the same, and pity 'tis 'tis true. Prof. MacDonald also declares that the proposed railroad rate legislation is a step forward in socialism, and in this he is also correct.

NO EXPERIENCED observer of the weather expects a noticeable change from one season to another to occur exactly on schedule time. The point which theoretically separates the seasons is generally passed as insensibly as is the equator by a ship at sea. The absence of a burst of vernal warmth in this vicinity yesterday did not, therefore, cause surprise, but regret.

Considerable interest is manifested at Manassas in the corporation election, which will take place Saturday next for the purpose of ascertaining the sense of the freeholders upon the question of bonding the town to the extent of $50,000 for establishing a system of water works, electric lights and street improvements.

From Washington.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]
Washington, March 22.

It is probable that, as a result of the special session of the Supreme Court of the United States yesterday at the home of Chief Justice Fuller, the Chattanooga sheriff, from whose custody the negro Ed Johnson was taken Monday night and lynched, will be arrested for contempt. It is believed that orders have already been sent by the Department of Justice to the District Attorney at Knoxville to this effect. The contempt of court alleged lies in the fact that the sheriff failed to carry out the mandate of the court issued last Monday, which granted a stay of execution to Johnson and commanded him to keep the negro in custody pending further action on his appeal. President Roosevelt has interested himself in the case and has instructed the Department of Justice to aid the Tennessee state authorities in bring the members of the mob to justice. Secret service men are understood to be at work on the scene gathering evidence as to the identity of the lynchers.

The will of Samuel Hay Kaufman, President of the Evening Star Newspaper Company, was filed for probate today. The estate is valued at $400,000 exclusive of his interest in the Star Company. Numerous bequests of a charitable and philantropic nature are made.

Officials of the administration, it is said, were not greatly surprised over Judge Humphrey's decision in Chicago yesterday granting immunity to the beef trust magnates. It is not believed that even Attorney General Moody was confident of winning on his contentions. When the packers first set up the plea of immunity, it was seen that a grave obstacle had been placed in the way of successful prosecution of the individuals. According to Judge Humphrey's opinion, the whole matter of immunity for the individuals hinged on whether or not they had been compelled to furnish testimony. If compelled the promise of immunity was implied, whether actually expressed by Mr. Garfield or not. The commissioner averred quite strenuously that he had not promised immunity, but he could not get away from the contention of the defendants that he had held before them the powers of his office to compel testimony, and in effect threatened them under those powers if they should not furnish the information requested. Under Judge Humphrey's ruling, it was not necessary for the packers to ask for personal immunity. It came to them without the asking. The prosecutions of the individual members of the beef trust now having been eliminated, the government will proceed against the corporations themselves. An early date for the trials will be insisted upon. The Sherman anti-trust act, under which the indictments were brought, provides for a fine not to exceed $5,000 "for every contract, combination, or conspiracy, in restraint of trade." This law will be construed by the Department of Justice to mean that every quotation of prices to customers constituted a distinct and separate act of conspiracy If the government proves its case the aggregate amount of fines, should the maximum be assessed, would run into the millions. The President's first caller this morning was Attorney General Moody, the purpose of his visit being to consult as to the future course of the government in the packers' case. There is serious doubt as to the right of the government to appeal from the decision of yesterday. It is held by local legal talent that the court's action amounted to an acquittal of the individuals concerned and under the constitution they could not again be placed in jeopardy. Under the circumstances, it is likely that the Department of Justice will not attempt to carry this phase of the case any further. The Attorney General was joined at his conference with the President by Secretary Taft and Commissioner of Corporations Garfield. No statement was given out regarding the results of the meeting, and the Attorney General declined for the present to discuss the case in any of its phases.

The long standing differences between Captain George C. Broome, of Brooklyn, and his wife, Mary K. Broome, formerly Mary K. Barbour, of this city, daughter of the President of the asphalt trust, were reconciled recently in Philadelphia at the bedside of their sick daughter. The troubles between Captain and Mrs. Broome, who are well known in society circles in Washington, Philadelphia and Brooklyn, were of long standing and culminated about two years and a half ago when Mrs. Broome left her husband at his army post in Porto Rico, and came to Washington. She was aided in escaping from Porto Rico, it is said, by a brother officer of Captain Broome. She left the island in a small boat one night it is said, and boarding an outgoing steamer went to New York; from there she came to Washington where she made her home with her father in his palatial residence in Mount Pleasant. Soon after Mrs. Broome's arrival in this city, Captain Broome instituted suit in District Supreme Court against James F. Barbour and Annie K. Barbour, to recover $250,000 for the alleged alienation of his wife's affections. This proceeding was abandoned by Captain Broome June 6 last. Not long ago the six-year-old daughter of the Broomes, the custody of whom had been awarded by the court to Mrs. Broome, became seriously ill in Philadelphia. Captain and Mrs. Broome met frequently at her bedside. As a result, according to information learned today, the estranged parents became friendly again and this culminated in a reconciliation between them. The child has since recovered.

For a second time Midshipman Minor Meriwether, jr., has sent his resignation to the Navy Department. It will be referred to the President before action is taken. On the occasion of his first effort to get out of the academy, Meriwether was being tried for hazing, and the resignation was not accepted. Meriwether is serving a sentence of a year's confinement in the Academy grounds for engaging in the fist fight which resulted in the death of Midshipman Branch.

The body of the late Representative George R. Patterson, of Pennsylvania, will be taken from Washington to Ashland, Pennsylvania, for burial on Saturday. The trip will be made over the Pennsylvania, the funeral party leaving Washington at 11 p. m. The congressional delegation appointed by Speaker Cannon and Vice President Fairbanks to attend the funeral will leave early Saturday morning for Ashland.

Mr. Leo Vogel, the Swiss minister, this morning presented to Secretary Root the invitation of the Swiss government to the United States to join in the Red-cross conference to be held at Geneva this summer.

It was learned at the State Department today that assurances had been received from Austria that the newly appointed ambassador at Vienna, Charles S. Francis, would be an acceptable representative of this government. The President and Secretary Root were informed on this point before the appointment was made.

Part of the session of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor today was devoted to an informal discussion of the events of yesterday afternoon, when Speaker Cannon and President Roosevelt expressed their sentiments in extemporaneous addresses in reply to the ultimatum presented by President Gompers and the federation presidents in relation to the remissness of the government in granting the demands of organized labor. Thus far the questions involved have not been altogether cleared up and further discussion and conferences may be required to lead to a full understanding. President Roosevelt asked the delegation for a bill of particulars relating to alleged violations of the eight-hour law and President Gompers will head a committee of three which will formulate a report on that subject and which will give details in accordance with his wishes. President Roosevelt has promised that the charges shall be investigated without delay. President Gompers is not inclined to acknowledge the correctness of President Roosevelt's position in his opposition to a number of the demands contained in the memorial presented. The subcommitte of three will present further arguments particularly on the application of the eight-hour law to the Isthmus of Panama. Upon this question, however, the President is not inclined to yield an inch, not even on the covert threat contained in that feature of the memorial which promises that labor will, if not heeded, "appeal to the conscience and the support of our fellow citizens." Members of the House of Representatives, however, are inclined to view this promise with something akin to dismay and already there is a disposition to give more heed to the complaints contained in the memorial, which are directed more specifically against House committees.

"We have a high personal regard for both President Roosevelt and Speaker Cannon," said President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, at noon today just after he came from a discussion with the executive council of the federation, now in session here, of the reception of the labor leaders yesterday and the replies made to their bill of grievances by Speaker Cannon and President Roosevelt. "Nevertheless we are standing for the rights of the working people, which we have not gotten. They have not changed their positions, as our conference yesterday showed. There is but one thing left for us to do. We shall make our bill of grievances an issue in politics." The council spent most of the morning session in discussing the developments yesterday, Shelby Smith, of Philadelphia, and T. J. Healy, of the Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen, and John Conroy, of the Firemen's Union of St. Louis, today asked the executive council of the American Federation of Labor to enforce the decision of the Pittsburg convention, relative to the jurisdiction to firemen and engineers against the claim of the brewery workers to these men. It was decided to give further hearing to both sides of the case.

Mr. A. Hansford, of "The Bend" farm, near Fredericksburg, has a pigeon which is taking care of four kittens. The pigeon drives the mother cat away and the little kittens play around it in the box where they are kept. It is wonderful that the mother cat does not resent it and eat the pigeon. Many people have gone there and witnessed this remarkable case.

Mrs. Susan Dooley, an aged woman, lies dead at her home at Fall Creek, near Danville, as the result of injuries alleged to have been inflicted by James Dooley, her son, who is now in the county jail at Chatham awaiting indictment by the grand jury on the charge of matricide. Dooley once served a term in the penitentiary for robbery. It is said that about 10 days ago Dooley beat his bedridden mother into unconsciousness with his fists. Neighbors finally came to her aid. He was arrested a few days later. The mother remained in a critical condition and died yesterday.

The Southern Ice Exchange met in Richmond in its seventeenth annual convention yesterday, with an attendance of about 100 members. The body was welcomed in an address by Mayor McCarthy, who said, among other things, referring to Richmond' having been the Confederate capital: "I am the son of an Irishman, and I recognize but two flags—the State flag of Virginia and the battle flag of the Confederacy. The stars and stripe are all right in their way, but for me there are but two flags, the State flag of Virginia and the battle flag of the Confederacy, and so far as I am concerned, I recognize the battle flag of Virginia."

New York Stock Market.

New York, March 22.—There was heavy and aggressive buying in a number of stocks from the opening and all through the first hour. Large lines of short stock were covered. Some of the brokers were disposed to attribute the gains made in the majority of the list to short covering, but the fact is that arrangements for the increase of New York Central stock were considered as indicating that the most important banking interests have taken a position on the bull side of the market and accumulated much cheap stock on sudden break yesterday.

News of the Day.

According to a decision arrived at by the master plumbers of Washington they will now conduct their establishments strictly as open shops.

Judge Andrew Hamilton declined to testify before the Fowler committee of the New York Life Insurance Company, but agreed to meet them before a public tribunal.

A hot fight is being waged in the Massachusetts legislature against the appropriation of any money for the representation of that State at the Jamestown Exposition, the negroes being backed by a number of influential whites, most of them with other axes to grind, however.

That there is no constitutional authority for federal control of insurance or other State corporations other than railroads is to be the conclusion reported to the House by the judiciary committee. The report has been drafted by Chairman Jenkins, of the committee, and is now in the hands of members of the committee for their perusal. An unofficial poll of the members of the committee indicates that with practically no exceptions they concur in the correctness of this conclusion.

All the meat packers who were indicted by a federal grand jury last summer on charges of conspiracy in restraint of interstate trade and commerce yesterday were granted immunity from criminal prosecution under the indictment. While the individuals are to go free, the indictments found against the corporations, of which some of the indicted packers are members and others are employes, are to stand. A decision to this effect was handed down this afternoon by Judge Humphrey, in the United States District Court in Chicago.

Real Estate Values.

Three hundred and sixty-eight million, two hundred and eighty-one thousand, three hundred and sixty-nine dollars!

That is the total assessed value of all lands, lots and buildings in the State of Virginia as returned to Auditor Marye for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1905. Norfolk county is the wealthiest county in the State, exceeding the county of Rockingham by some two and a half millions. Augusta county also leads Rockingham. Greene county makes the smallest return of any in the State.

Of the cities in the State, Richmond leads the city of Norfolk by some nineteen millions, though the capital city did not make as much fuss in the general assembly as did the city by the sea. As a matter of fact, Richmond and Norfolk have greater values by about twenty millions than all the other cities of the Commonwealth. The aggregate wealth of all the counties in the State exceeds that of the cities (not including the towns) by some eighty-one millions.

The whites own about 80 per cent. of all the real estate of the Commonwealth. In the counties the whites own $212,263,706, the blacks hold $12,372,096. In the cities the whites hold $139,418,571, the blacks a smaller percentage than in the counties, owning only $4,277,056 in the cities.

Today's Telegraphic News

Affairs in Russia.

St. Petersburg, March 22.—At the ministry of Marine today the rumors that have been in circulation that a mutiny had occurred at Sevastopol were denied. A report is current in this city that M. Kokovzoff, who formerly occupied the office of minister of finance, would be made premier and that Premier Witte will become president of the council of the Empire.

Revolutionaries are again active in various sections of Russia, according to reports received here, and the authorities fear a renewal of the revolt as soon as the weather conditions are favorable.

Odessa, March 22.—No confirmation of the report that a mutiny occurred at Sevastopol is obtainable here.

Extraordinary measures are being taken by the authorities throughout the empire to suppress all revolutionary outbreaks and put an end to the agitation in favor of an uprising.

At Moscow, the home of General Dubassoff, the governor, is carefully protected against attacks. A system of electrical connections with numerous alarm bells has been established to give warning of any attempt to enter the building. The house is strongly guarded by troops and police officers and only officials are allowed to enter.

Three hundred rifles have disappeared from the barracks of the guards in St. Petersburg.

The Miners and the Operators.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 22.—The rock of disagreement looms up ahead of the joint scale committee of miners and mine operators, which reached its third session this morning. Unless some leader is found to the representatives of the two industrial forces through the shoals, wreck seems inevitable. The scale committee—32 members—is said to be unwieldy. Such optimistic feeling as existed several days ago regarding the outcome of the present conference has entirely disappeared. Representatives of miners and operators say that nothing has been advanced and nothing will likely be advanced that will improve the situation over what it was when the joint convention and its committee threshed out the subject early in the year.

An operator whose name cannot be quited but whose influence is a prevailing one among the mine owners is credited with a statement, early today, that any agreement between operators and miners had been found to be absolutely impossible. A motion to adjourn sine die was made in the joint scale committee session this morning after a hot argument in which the miners attempted to force consideration of the wage increase. Recess was taken before the motion was considered.

The United States and Turkey.

Constantinople, March 22.—Officials at the American Legation here are very reticent regarding the situation of affairs between America and Turkey. Your correspondent learns from a good authority, however, that United States Minister Leishmann having left Constantinople for America expressed to the Porte a strong protest against the evasiveness of the Turkish government regarding the American demands. It is alleged that the minister for foreign affairs verbally promised Minister Leishmann on March 8 that a settlement of the American demands would be made. The same day the foreign minister sent a note supporting his assurance. The American minister then reminded the Porte that the rights to immunity from taxation were confirmed by the order of 1888 and 1892 touching on religious and charitable institutions in Syria. These rights have been constantly recognized in the case of institutions supported by other nations. In his note Mr Leishmann finally demands that custom officials shall be ordered to relieve American institutions from the taxation they have been bearing, and that all monies they have paid for duties shall be refunded by the custom officials at Beirut.

Murderous Assault on an Officer.

New York, March 22.—For murderously assaulting Chief Officer Johnson, of the Atlantic transport line steamer Mesaba, J. Doyle, a cattleman, was turned over to the authorities when that vessel arrived here today from London. Chief Officer Johnson says that at 2:20 o'clock on the morning of March 12, Doyle attached him with a hatchet, inflicting two gashes each about three inches long. Johnson managed to throw Doyle off and escaped to the chart room, closely followed by his assailant. At the entrance to the chart room other officers came to the assistance of Johnson, and Doyle, after being compelled to surrender the weapon, was placed in custody. He was confined below until the arrival of the steamer here. The only apparent reason for the attack is that Doyle's friend was returned to London a stowaway.

Battle With Deserters.

Manila, March 22.—Advices received from Dapitan, Island of Mindanao, give details of a fight which has occurred between a detachment of constabulary and deserters whom they were pursuing. Seven visayan constabulary who were undergoing punishment for rowdyism deserted. Five of the men were armed, and they offered fight to the pursuers. A sergeant was killed and three of the men in the ranks wounded. Two of the deserters were killed, but the rest escaped and are still at large.

A Denial.

Paris, March 22.—At the office of the Raffinerie Francaise, the French branch of the Standard Oil Company, Wm. Rockefeller's secretary made a statement today formally denying the reports of Mr. Rockefeller's illness. He added: "Mr. William Rookefeller is well and in the office daily. However he dislikes publicity and therefore is unwilling to make a personal statement but has authorized our denial of the reports as to his health being bad."

Letter to Isaac Groves,

Alexandria, Virginia.

Dear Sir: Here's a story with a point to it. Devoe lead-and-zinc is a cheaper paint than lead-and-oil; costs less, goes further, wears twice as long. But this last don't belong to the story we are going to tell this time.

One of the best painters in Uniontown, Pa, is L O Rutter; does all the best work. We told him Devoe goes further than lead-and-oil or mixed paint.

He said: "I have known it for two years, and have increased my business by it. I take a job for less money than anybody else, and get my pick of the work. Don't give it away; for nobody knows how I do it."

The name to go by is Devoe.

Yours truly

Princess in a Fight.

Rome, March 22.—Princess Elvira of Bourbon, daughter of Don Carlos, the Spanish pretender, who fled several years ago from Rome with the Italian painter Folchi, with whom she is still living, at Florence, quarrelled yesterday with the proprietress of a dyeing establishment at Florence over the amount she was charged for cleaning a fur pelisse. The princess finally refused to pay a cent and started to leave the shop, taking the pelisse with her. The proprietress snatched the pelisse from her hands. This angered the princess who flew into a rage and attacked the woman, tearing out her hair and scratching her face. She then struck the woman, raining blows upon her until the two were separated. The woman was taken to a hospital to have her injuries dressed and the princess was arrested. She was released this morning as the physicians who examined her victim stated that the woman will recover in a fortnight.

Situation in Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 22.—There was a little disturbance here yesterday at the funeral of the negro, Ed. Johnson, who was lynched by a mob. An unknown white man was assailed and badly hurt by a crowd of negroes. A telegram purporting to be from the Attorney General was read at the funeral service of Johnson. It instructed the minister not to bury the body until it had been examined by federal authorities. It also stated that the tents of the United States troops, negro cavalry, would be sent here. The report created a stir. It was found that the message was sent by a joker. The militia was not on duty this morning. The police have the situation well in hand.

Execution of a Murderer.

Newark, N. J., March 22.—Giuseppe Marmo was hanged in the county jail here at 10:40 o'clock this morning. The crime for which Marmo paid the extreme penalty was for the shooting of his brother-in-law and fellow countryman, named Marinano on August 28, 1904. The murder was the result of a dispute over trifling financial matters. Marmo also fired three shots into the body of his sister, the wife of Marinano, none of which proved fatal, and then fled to the meadows, where for three days and nights he evaded arrest by hiding in the marshes, being forced, according to his own statement, eat grass for sustenance.

Women Shovel Snow.

Hazleton, Pa., March 22.—A number of society women connected with the First Presbyterian Church yesterday adopted a unique method of providing their Easter church offerings. The recent snow storm badly blocked the church pavements and yesterday the women got together and decided that instead of paying a man to do the work they would clear the sidewalks themselves and place the money thus saved in the church fund. Consequently there was presented at the church the novel scene of women working with huge snow-shovels and earning blisters as well as church money.

Banker Weds Again.

There was much surprise in Brooklyn yesterday when it became known that Thomas W. Kiley, president of the North Side Bank and head of the hardware firm of Thomas W. Kiley & Co., acknowledged that he was a bigamist. About 12 years ago, Mr. Kiley, who was then in his fifty-third year, married the widow of his brother, James Kiley, and she is now living at his home, 201 Jefferson avenue, Brooklyn, while not many blocks distant, his second wife, who is known as Mrs. Flora A. Colt, and whom he married in October, 1903, is established in a fine house at 216 Brooklyn avenue.

Miss Brown married a Mr. Colt, who died about nine years ago. Mr. Kiley, according to his admission, contributed to the support of Mrs. Colt, but solely through his strong friendship for her. His relations with Mrs. Colt were so close that in October, 1903, she accompanid him on his trip to San Francisco to attend a bankers' convention. The couple stopped off at Hammond, Ind., and were married there. This is Mr. Kiley's explanation of the matrimonial tangle in which he enmeshed himself.

"When we left Brooklyn my wife was extremely ill at my home. She was not expected to live. On the way out West I talked over the matter with Mrs. Colt; I told her I wanted to marry her. She was willing to become my wife. We both thought my first wife would be dead before my return to Brooklyn. My only excuse is that I was overwrought and suffering from a general breakdown. I had never any improper relations with Mrs. Colt. We were married under our true names in Hammond.

"In a month we returned to Brooklyn. I bought the house in Brooklyn avenue, furnished it in the best style and made it over to Mrs. Colt in her own legal name. I had made an agreement with her that we should live publicly as man and wife as soon as my wife died.

"My wife grew better, so there was nothing for us to do except to keep everything secret. I have maintained Mrs. Colt and have given her everything in the world she could want. I have confessed everything to my first wife and she understands the situation fully. I am supporting my first wife in the best possible way and am giving my second wife everything she wants and have arranged ample provisions for her future."

In September last Mrs. Colt employed a lawyer to bring suit against Mrs. Kiley for $250,000, but it never reached the trial stage, Mr. Kiley, it is alleged, settling it for a substantial amount.

Mr. Kiley's first wife had four children by her first husband, two sons and two daughters. The latter died soon after their mother's marriage to their uncle, but the sons are still alive. It is probable that District Attorney Clark may take some action in the case.

Kiley has disappeared, following the discovery of the bigamy charges.

In the trial in New York today of Spriggs, the colored man who was kidnapping the white women, the accused said he became acquainted with Hattie Warren in the summer of 1899. He met her first in a house of ill repute. He never brought Hattie Warren into the house or imprisoned her. The women in the house were all white women, except the cook. The visitors were colored men.

M. E. Church South.

The fourth quarterly conference of this charge was held last night, Rev. J. A. Hutchinson, presiding elder, in the chair. Reports were received from pastors and from the different boards and affairs were closed for the present conference year.

Elections for different offices were held and resulted as follows: Stewards, James E. Alexander, Henry K. Field, Jno. P. Robinson, E. C. Graham, G. W. Keys, J. G. Graham, F. J. Pollard, J. T. Wilkins, W. W. Sherwood, J. F. Myers, W. G. Plaskett, W T. Wilkins, J. B. Watkins, Geo. E. Warfield, Sam'l. R. Catts, C. E. Outcalt, Alvin Powell, J E. W. Timberman; Recording Steward, James E. Alexander; District Steward, Henry K. Field; Superintendent of Washington street Sunday school, James E. Alexander; Superintendent of Village Chapel school, J. F. Myers. This was the last meeting to be held during the pastorate of Rev. James P. Stump and the following resolution was presented and unanimously passed:

After four years of intimate and sacred relations as pastor and people, this quarterly conference, representing the membership and congregation of Alexandria station, M. E. Church South, confronts the hour of parting with Rev. James P. Stump.

Loyalty to the church of our choice, demands that we shall not murmer, but the command "That ye love one another" is not restricted by legislation circumstances or locality nor limited in duration, and in the four years of his ministry among us he has so won his way to the homes, hearts and inner life of our people that we assure him he is one of us in all the strength of that divine command.

This feeling is not confined to our particular membership and congregation; other denominations and even those who have no church affiliations or make any profession of faith in Christ have felt the influence of his life and character, and on every hand can be heard regrets that he cannot abide with us for a longer period.

We know that we express the prayer of our church and the desire of our community that the law which takes him from us may be so overruled that his new field of labor shall be "in green pastures and beside still waters," and that wherever he may be sent he may realize the fulfillment of the purpose of his life and the dominant desire of his years in bring men to know, love and live for Christ.

Prospects for Shad.

A packer of this city in speaking of the prospects of the present fishing season yesterday was pessimistic in his utterances. He called attention to a well-known fact thot shad have been steadily growing scarcer and higher during the past few years and that from present indications the season of 1906 will show no increase in receipts at this place. There was, he said, a time when packers were enabled to secure an abundance of shad near the close of the season for packing purposes. Of late, however, the supply has been meagre and prices so high that none are left for salting. As has several times been stated, the curse of the dearth of shad in the Potomac is due to the fact that the fish are intercepted by trap nets in Chesapeake bay, but few being able to escape the labyrinth of stake nets after they enter the capes. The shad are sent to northern markets, from the places where caught, and but few get into the river. By this procedure shad are becoming scarcer every year, and should the practice continue in a short time shad in the Potomac will be as scarce as sheepshead and equally as high in price. Mr. Frank Phillips, an old waterman, in conversation with a representative of the Gazette yesterday, referred to the conditions decribed above, and voiced the opinions of many when he observed that some legislation should be taken in the matter immediately. Gulls have made their appearance, and numbers of these birds are sailing over the surface of the river in search of prey.

The Pruitt Murder Case.

As was stated in the Gazette, a jury in Criminal Court No. 1 in Washington yesterday, after having been out for 21 hours, reported that it could not agree as to the guilt or innocence of William R. Pruitt, who was tried Tuesday under an indictment charging him with murder in the second degree in connection with the death of William H. Steele in Twining City last June. This was the second time that Pruitt had been called before the bar of justice to answer to the charge, the first trial having also resulted in a hung jury. It is understood that the jury stood 11 for acquittal and one for conviction. The vote of the jury in the former trial is said to have been 9 to 3 for acquittal, no change being made in the standing, although 36 hours were consumed in deliberation. It is the general opinion that the case will eventually be dismissed. Pruitt and Steele quarreled at the former's residence, resulting in Steele being shot in the abdomen with a shotgun over which they were struggling. On the stand Pruitt admitted that he had shot Steele, but claimed that, although he had the weapon in his hands for the purpose of self-defense, the shooting was an accident. Pruitt at one time lived in Alexandria.

County School Superintendent.

Superintendent Eggleston, the head of the Department of Education, has not yet designated the date for the next meeting of the State Board of Education, but it will be held at some time in the near future. Among the duties of the new board will be the election of a school superintendent for the county of Alexandria. It will be remembered that the Senate refused to confirm the appointment of Mr. Baldwin, originally named by the old board for this position. Mr. J. E. Clements, former superintendent is being urged by his many friends in the county for reappointment. He made an excellent superintendent, was largely instrumental in building school houses and advancing educational interests in the county and his reappointment would be a recognition of his past good services.

River Notes.

The three-masted schooner W. P. Hood is at W. A. Smoot & Co's wharf loading ties for Boston.

The schooner Charles H. Brammell is being loaded with lumber for Monday's Point by Smoot & Co.

Police Commissioners.

A regular meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners was held last night. Mayor F. J. Paff presided, and Commissioners Hill, Fisher and Oehlert were present. The Mayor read a report from Chief Webster in which it was stated that Lieutenant Smith had charged Officer William Mayhugh with drinking intoxicants while on duty on the afternoon of March 7.

After the charge had been thoroughly examined it was shown that the accused was guilty of indiscretion in drinking liquor mixed with quinine while indisposed, and that the act was committed under extenuating circumstances. On motion the Mayor was requested to reprimand the officer for failing to report his sickness and to warn him of a repetition of the offense.

A petition was received from the officers stationed at police headquarters asking to be allowed a day off as is done in the case of the men who perform duty on the streets. The petition was laid over for future consideration.

Assistant Postmaster.

Mr. F. C. Beattie, of Fairfax county, who on Tuesday evening was appointed by Postmaster Burroughs assistant postmaster at Alexandria and who immediately qualified as such, has, after a conference with his father and friends, decided to resign the position and will not enter upon the discharge of the duties of this office. The appointment of Mr Beattie, as stated yesterday, created considerable criticism, solely, however, on the ground that he was a non-resident, and feeling that his acceptance might put Mr. Burroughs in an embarrassing position, has properly decided to resign. Mr. Beattie while not now a resident of this city, has lived here for a number of years and married in Alexandria. He is highly esteemed by all who know him. Mr. Burroughs has not yet decided upon a man in place of Mr. Beattie.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, March 22.

SENATE.

A resolution extending the time of the opening of the Shoshone Indian reservation was passed by the the Senate today.

Mr. Morgan offered a resolution providing for an investigation into the government of the Isle of Pines and its people by a committee of seven Senators. It particularly aimed to discover whether official abuses on the island, whether the courts discriminate against the American residents or the government against their liberties, schools, properties, employment trade and religious. The resolution went over under the rules.

HOUSE.

The statehood fight in the House broke out immediately after the reading of the journal. Mr. Dalzell, for the rules committee, submitted a rule that the statehood bill with the Senate amendments be taken from the Speaker's table, the amendments disagreed to and a conference ordered with the Senate.

Mr. Dalzell moved the previous question. It was carried on a viva voce vote, and on a rising vote 149 to 124, about twenty republicans voting with the democrats in the negative.

A record vote was demanded, and secured by Mr. Williams. It sustained the previous question by a vote of 171 to 140, leaving each side twenty minutes, under the rule, for a discussion of the rule.

Mr. Dalzell explained the rule which was opposed by Mr. Williams. Mr. Humphrey, of Washington, a republican insurgent, aroused applause in a five minute speech, declaring that although his side was in the minority in the House, it was in the majority in the country. "It is our duty," he said, "to give statehood to Oklahoma and Indian Territory and leave New Mexico and Arizona to the future."

Insurgent J Adam Bede, of Minnesota, the humorist of the House, took occasion to express his allegiance to the President. "I like him," he said, "because he allowed a member of this House to break into his household without ringing the alarm."

Representative Longworth, of Ohio, the President's son-in-law, blushed like a schoolgirl when the eyes of his colleagues were turned full upon him.

"I like him," continued Bede, "because he gave his daughter to a real American and not to some degenerate prince."

He advised the leaders not to quarrel with the Senate when it is right, as it is in this case, and contended for the admission of Oklahoma and Indian Territory as one state. The debate was closed at 1:22 and the roll call was held on the rule.

The rule was adopted by a vote of 175 to 156.

On the final vote Mr. Reeder, of Kansas, and Darragh, of Michigan, went over to the insurgents, and Messrs. Tyndall and Welborn, of Missouri, deserted the insurgents cause, and voted for the rule.

Representative Williams, then moved that the instructions to the House conferrees be changed so as to require them to concur in the Senate amendments eliminating Arizona and New Mexico from the bill.

Mr. Dalzell raised a point of order against the motion, which the Speaker sustained.

Messrs. Hamilton and Brick, republicans, and Moon, democrat, were appointed conferrees on the part of the House.

Mr. Williams appealed from the decision of the chair. Mr. Dalzell moved to lay the appeal on the table. The republican insurgents, except Wachter, Biedler, and Bede, voted with Dalzell to sustain the chair, and Dalzell's motion, on a division, was carried, 146 to 91. The fight was carried no further and the House then, at 2 p. m., went into committee of the whole for the further consideration of the legislative appropriation bill.

Killed Two Sisters.

The case of a Berlin bank clerk of the name of Brunke, who, under the most extraordinary circumstances, shot and killed two beautiful sisters named Haars, aged twenty-two and twenty years, respectively, on October 17, 1905, was tried in Brunswick yesterday. Brunke was found guilty and sentenced to eight years' simple imprisonment.

According to the evidence, the prisoner is a type of German degenerates, corrupted by decadent and pessimistic literature, leading to megalomania and contempt of life. The evidence of the prisoner was remarkable. He said he was an enthusiastic student of Kant, Schopenhauer, Spinosa, Nietzsche, and Ibsen. He regarded suicide as allowable, and even desirable. He had written three plays, one called "The Eccentric," in which he delineated his own character and career.

The prison doctors stated that Brunke was sane, but as the crown prosecutor only demanded nine years and a half imprisonment, he apparently was of the opinion that Brunke's mind was unbalanced.

Brunke thrilled a packed court by calmly describing his shooting of the sisters as they sat side by side in armchairs. The shooting, he declared, was done at their instigation and with their full consent.

The father of the girls, a merchant, was examined. He gave his daughters excellent characters as amiable, quiet, innocent girls. It transpired that the mother of the girls committed suicide through grief after they were killed.

Burned to Death While Asleep.

Details reached Roanoke yesterday of the awful death of John Carr, a Floyd county farmer, 38 years old. Carr went to a stillhouse near Jacks Mill Monday evening and got drunk. On his way home Monday night he fell by the roadside, where his groans late in the night attracted the attention of Morgan Wimmer and John Stump. Carr appealed to them to build a fire for him, saying he was freezing to death. The men built a fire by a chestnut snag and left Carr sleeping on the ground. Yesterday they passed the spot again, and were horrified to find Carr's charred body on the ground. She stump had caught fire, and, the burning bark falling on Carr's body, set the clothing on fire. The body was perfectly nude, with the exception of a piece of sock on one foot. There were indications of a struggle. Carr's watch and suspender buckles were found 20 feet from the deady body. The flesh was burned from the bones. Carr leaves a widow and several children.

The Duke Divorce Case.

An affidavit made by James B. Duke, the president of the American Tobacco Company, in support of his suit for divorce from his wife, Lillian M. Duke, was read by Mr. Duke's counsel yesterday in a hearing on the case before Vice Chancellor Pitney in Jersey City. Mr. Duke's counsel appeared in opposition to Mrs. Duke's application for counsel fees. Mr. Duke in his affidavit declared that he did not leave his wife until he became suspicious of her fidelity. He denied that his fortune amounts to $50,000,000, but admitted it was $10,000,000. He asserted that he gave Mrs. Duke a house in West Sixty-eighth street, New York, securities worth $175,000, valuable jewelry, and funds to pay the interest on a mortgage on her house. He declared that his suspicions were aroused by finding a telegram signed "John," and that he had his wife watched by detectives. He denied the charges made by his wife regarding Mary Smith, an employe of Mr. Duke's New Jersey residence, and declared that his wife is defending the suit only in the hope of securing a good financial settlement. Vice Chancellor Pitney allowed Mrs. Duke counsel fees amounting to $3,000.

Exciting Scene in Court.

Prosecuting Attorney James P. Reardon and Attorney Harry R. Kern, of Winchester, nearly came to blows in the courtroom in that place yesterday morning during the trial of the case against Arthur Shorts, a young negro under indictment for arson. Angry words caused by the imputation that Attorney Kern had tampered with a witness brought on a clash between the two lawyers, and the courtroom was thrown into an uproar. Judge Atkinson pounded for order, and Sergeant Taylor threatened to clear the room. During the examination of an old negro woman, who was a witness in the case. Attorney Reardon said: "I will prove to the court that this witness was in Mr. Kern's office, and that Mr. Kern had hold of her before the trial of this case," Attorney Kern jumped to his feet livid with rage, and shouted: "Then I will prove you to be a liar." The two men stood for a few seconds glaring at each other, and only the prompt action of the court officials prevented a fight. Sharp passages at arms and angry squabbles between the lawyers characterized the trial of the case. After being out a few minutes the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.

THURSDAY EVENING, MAR. 22, 1906.

Fought at Dizzy Height.

High above the street on an unfinished building, at One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street and Broadway, New York, two men fought a desperate duel Tuesday afternoon with an axe and a hammer, and when a policeman finally climbed up and separated them one of them was almost dead. His head was cut in five places and his skull fractured. He is now in the hospital in a dying condition. The fight was witnessed by a large crowd. They watched the two men strike, then grapple and struggle silently close to the edge of the floor. Momentarily they expected to see the men tumble headlong to the pavement. Isaac Belson, a lather, and Samuel Pellman, a carpenter, where the men who fought. They had long been friends. When they were working yesterday on the eight floor of a building now in course of construction, Pellman wanted to use Belson's small axe. Belson objected and blows were struck. Belson grabbed his axe from Pellman and started for him. Pellman reached down after a hammer and returned the blows. Back and forth they fought upon the narrow beams. Other workmen were afraid to interfere and called down to the street for help. This attracted a crowd, in which was Policeman McGahn. He climbed the ladders and, with drawn club, approached the two men and threatened to use his revolver, at last separating them. Both were exhausted.

Each Believed the Other Dead.

Sylvester LeBrie, who has been in a hospital at Staunton for 20 years, and who thought his sister, Mrs. Dudley, had been dead eight years, has found that she is alive and has gone to her home. The sister and brother had a reunion in the Western State Hospital Monday.

Le Brie has been improving of late years, and has been out on furlough a long time, working and making some money, which Dr. DeJarnette has been saving for him, and he has accumulated about $200. For sometime he has been in the employ of Mr. John Rutherford.

Eight years ago Le Brie's family learned that he was dead, and five years ago Sylvester heard that his mother was dead, but both statements were wrong. A few days ago a sister of Sylvester, Mrs. Dudley, took it into her head to write a letter of inquiry to Dr. DeJarnette, and was surprised to receive a reply stating her brother was alive and well. She went to Staunton and yesterday she left to return to Lynchburg, accompanied by her brother, who was so happy that he drew out $60 of his money to take to his mother as a present. He will probably soon be discharged from the hospital

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. Oh, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Trade in Flies.

A ton of dead flies was the strange cargo a vessel from Brazil unloaded at the London docks. Dead flies are admirable food for chickens, birds in captivity and captive fishes. But, there being no flies to speak of in England, these in search of this delicacy for their animals have to send to Brazil, where there are flies on everything.

The river Amazon abounds with flies. Brazilians float down the stream in boats and scoop in millions of the flies, which circle in dense clouds just above the water's edge. The flies are killed, dried thoroughly in the sun and packed in bags. They are then shipped.

Dead flies constitute one of the richest of foods for animals. For chickens the flies are mixed with other ingredients, such as millet and corn. By themselves the flies are too rich, but their power of nourishment is so great that a small quantity of them has a most beneficial effect.

Two years ago the Brazilian government stopped the exportation, being afraid that the fish in the rivers would suffer by being deprived of this fly food, but the prohibition has been removed.

Quick changes from hot to cold and back again try strong constitutions and cause, among other evils nasal catarrh, a troublesome and offensive disease. Sneezing and snuffling, coughing and difficult breathing, and the drip, drip of the foul discharge into the throat—all are ended by Ely's Cream Balm. This honest and positive remedy contains no cocaine, mercury, nor other harmful ingredient. The worst cases are cured in a short time. All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

Four Wives.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 22.—The arrest of Eugene T. Morrison, of this city, at Bloomsburg Tuesday by Detective Harry C. White, on the charge of embezzling funds from the Security Life and Annuity Company, is the climax of a dual life Morrison has been living for years, the detective says. Upon investigation of Morrison's career it has been revealed, White says, that he, like the sailor, "had a wife or sweetheart in every port." At Williamsport, it is understood, he has a wife. A Steelton woman also makes has been writing letters to him, signing them as his wife. A Chicago woman also makes the same claim to him, and when arrested Morrison was the guest of a respectable woman of Bloomsburg, upon whom he had called frequently. Morrison has a wife and seven children living in this city. It is said that he has dealt heavily and disastrously in stocks recently.

A Chicago Alderman Owes His Election to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain Cough Remedy for affections of the throat and lungs," says Hon. John Shenick, 220 So. Peoria St., Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold after being overheated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop, as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several doses that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the Council." This remedy is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.
